

About "Shoe Development"

After much consideration, we have decided to use the fishhook as an example to explain the development process of each of our shoes. Our development philosophy is to use original factory materials, and we spare no effort in obtaining them. This time, we have once again traveled a great distance to Dongguan, China, to present to you the manufacturing process.

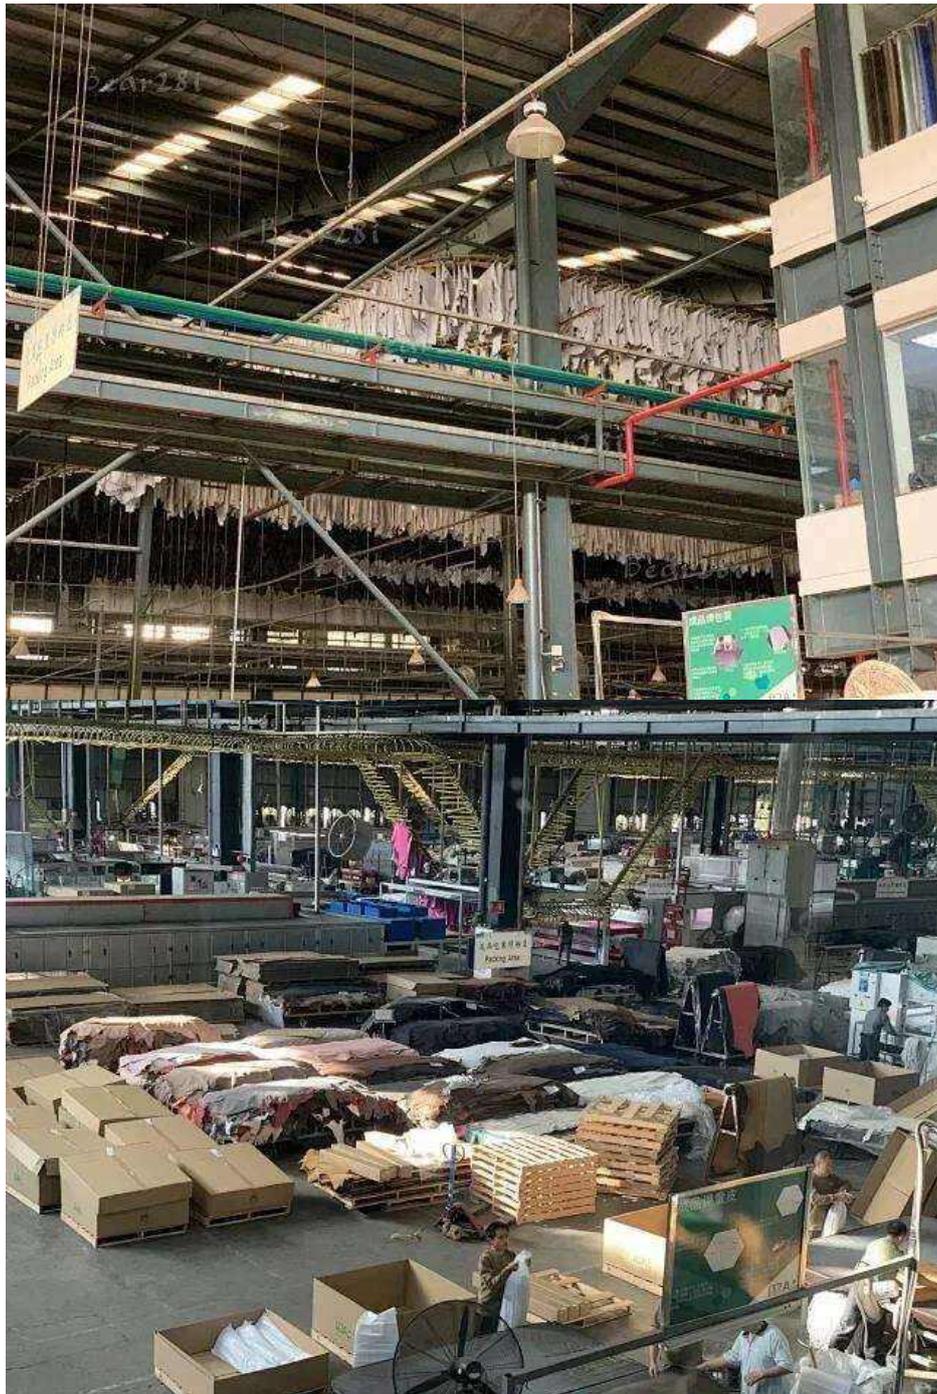

Adidas Leather Supplier

Trademark Valued at 27 Million RMB

Many can talk about using original materials, but how many can truly achieve it? Rejecting copywriting kings, a preview of the internal production workshop: The charm of a large factory is inherent and astonishing.

Confirming Leather, Contract Signing On-Site:

